RURAL BY CHOICE

You shouldn't have to sacrifice essential services based on where you live.

The Internet is essential. Unfortunately, your options are few and far between.

The result is mounting frustration with spotty or no service, and cell phone overage charges.

You're tired of...

SPOTTY SERVICE

You're about to hit send on an important email and your Internet goes down (again).

Annoyed, you drive into town to a coffee shop or community centre. Anywhere with Internet. What should take less than a minute, takes an hour, maybe more.

There is a better way to be connected.

OVERAGE CHARGES

Another month and another mobile phone bill that blows the budget.

Despite feeling trapped and maybe a little angry, you chalk it up to rural living knowing your family needs the Internet.

There is an affordable option.

MISCONCEPTIONS

You hear the government is bringing Internet to everyone. Great...except you live outside the coverage area. You're still waiting.

The answer...
